Primary Interest Centers On Republican Battle

By JOHN PAGET

HARRISBURG, May 16.—The political spotlight centered today on Pennsylvania where a battle for control of the state's Republican fortunes in 1952 is being waged in the GOP primary election.

The Democratic primary is cut and dried due to a lack of serious opposition to slated candidates. U. S. Sen. Francis J. Myers lacks opposition to nomination for a second term on the Democratic ticket.

The polls in 8347 voting precincts opened at 8 a. m. EDT and close 13 hours later.

Spearhead of the attack on old guard Republicanism is Gov. James H. Duff, fighting with conservative-minded six term Cong. John C. Kunkel for the U. S. Senatorial nomination.

A defeat for the Duff slate, the governor believes, will herald victory for the Democrats in the general election November 7 and 8.

It's apple blossom time in Lawrence county at the present time. Thousands of apple trees around the county are now approaching full bloom. The New Castle Ellwood City highway is lined with many orchards that give this route a particularly beautiful appearance at the present time.

You still have time to go to the polls today and vote in the primary election. Polls do not close until 9 o'clock, daylight saving time.

L. D. Nicholas, 810 North Mercer street, tells Pa News that he had a surprise mothers day event occur at his home on Sunday. Three baby robins made their appearance on that day in the nest attached to the porch of the Nicholas home.

Cherry blossoms are in full profusion in many sections of the county it is observed by Pa News. Peach blossoms are leaving the trees.

District voters had little excuse today for not getting out and casting their ballot. The weather was ideal for getting outdoors. Some institutions about the city and county observed the day as a holiday.

U.N. Secretary Confers With Premier Stalin

No Information On Result Of Talks Is Revealed At Moscow

By NATALIA RENE

MOSCOW, May 16.—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie met with Soviet Premier Stalin for an hour and a half last night. But Lie made no comment today on the result of talks he hoped would ease East-West tension.

His prime objective in visiting Moscow for the announced intention to seek a solution of the "cold war" was a talk with the premier himself.

The interview with Stalin occurred at 10 p. m. and lasted almost to midnight. Present during the talks were Deputy Premier Vyacheslav Molotov and Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky.

Remain Silent

Soviet official sources as well as Lie remained silent on the subjects which had been discussed. Lie's meeting with Stalin was especially significant because of the fact that the U. N. chief had visited President Truman in Washington prior to beginning his current European tour and also had seen the heads of government in Britain and France before journeying on to Moscow.

The secretary general made his trip to Moscow in the hope of arriving at an agreement which could re-establish unity in the United Nations.

His chief aim was to settle differences which have disrupted work in the world body as a result of the continuance of Nationalist China representation.

(In London highly authoritative sources said Lie made a sensational proposal calling for the creation of an American-supervised trusteeship over Formosa in return for admission of Communist China into the U. N.)

The Chief Executive, apparently confident of continued Democratic successes, is due back in the Nation's capital at 2:30 o'clock (EST) this afternoon, ending the cross-country trip he started a week ago last Sunday.

Mr. Truman left Chicago aboard the presidential special train last night shortly after addressing a cheering throng of 22,000 party faithful in the huge Chicago stadium.

His speech, broadcast nationally.

Believe Russia May Be Prepared For War By 1952

European General Manager, L. N. S.

LONDON, May 16.—The western big three foreign ministers were reported today to have decided that a western defense plan must be based on the possibility that Russia will be prepared for war by 1952.

This vital decision, according to reports current in Atlantic pact conference circles, was said to have prompted America, Britain and France to urge the speeding up of the rearmament program and a general strengthening of the Atlantic security system.

Advanced Two Years

The decision further is reported to represent an advance by two years on the time which the western defense chiefs thought it would take before Russia would be ready for war.

Agreement Is Reached Today To End Strike

Tieup On Five Roads Ends After Seven-Day Strike Period

By JACK GEIGER

CHICAGO, May 16.—The country's biggest railroad strike in four years ended early today on the seventh day of the walkout.

Less than four hours after the dispute was settled. The affected railroads began a return to normal operations.

Agreement Reached

The agreement was reached between the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers and representatives of four major railroads—the Southern Railway, the Santa Fe, and western sections of the New York Central and Pennsylvania systems.

It was announced in Chicago after a final, nine-hour meeting between the union, the railroads and the National Railway mediation board headed by Francis A. O'Neill Jr. O'Neill was aided in the negotiations by board member Leverette Edwards.

Agreement "Satisfactory"

Spokesmen for the union and management described the agreement as "satisfactory." A railroad official further elaborated: "a good settlement for all concerned."

The main issue in the dispute was the union's demand for an extra fireman on multiple unit Diesel engines. A statement by the railroads said:

"The major issue in the dispute was resolved by the union's withdrawing its demand for a second fireman on multiple unit Diesel-electric engines and the railroads agreeing to arbitrate the union's charges that certain practices in

City-Wide 'Value Days' Sales Event Is Arranged

Spring may be "busting out all over" in New Castle and Lawrence County, but come, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 18, 19 and 20, bargains will be busting out all over.

New Castle city-wide Value Days promise to be one of the best sales events ever introduced to the hundreds and hundreds of retailer purveyors of New Castle and its immediate shopping area.

The fifty cooperating merchants throughout New Castle have been working for many weeks in preparing to take place in order to make it one which has not been seen in sometime. The cooperating storemen have leaned over backwards to present this event to housewives and other family shoppers.

The presentation of New Castle city-wide Value Days does come at a time when housewives are in the midst of Spring housecleaning, the merchants agree, but have so planned that the many items which need replacing in the homes may be purchased at substantial savings.

The sale is not limited to a few obscure items which the merchants are trying to move to make room for other merchandise but has been arranged to take place in every department of the cooperating stores with items to be found for every member of the family.

Hundreds of bargains have been provided to make happy every "bargain hunting" woman in New Castle and its environs.

New Castle's city-wide Value Days parade of bargains will be listed in the advertisements of The News starting Wednesday. To aid

Those little white pieces of paper, that tell of the win or the loss, that tell us who's work's been effective and who will come out as the boss. Those little white pieces of paper with names that you mark with an x, and after they're counted someone will be glad, but think of the losers, poor fellows. So it's on until nine in the evening. other setback for Republicans in presidential balloting two years hence. Republicans of both factions have left no doubt that the winner of the statewide fight will be in a strong position to influence the makeup of Pennsylvania's delegation to the next GOP national convention.

Vote May Be Light

The total vote in Republican ranks is expected to run between 30 and 45 per cent. The consensus among Republicans is that a light vote will benefit the Duff-Fine ticket.

Rounding out the Duff-Fine slate are State Sen. Lloyd H. Wood for lieutenant governor; Internal Affairs Secretary William S. Livengood, Jr., for a fourth term; incumbent John C. Bell, Jr., for the Supreme Court and former Allegheny County Court Judge Blair F. Gunther for the Superior Court.

The Kunkle-Cooke ticket is rounded out unofficially with State Sen. George N. Wade for lieutenant governor, Joseph M. Stack for internal affairs secretary, Northumberland County Judge William L. Troutman for the Supreme Court and Philadelphia Judge Nochem S. Winnet for the Superior Court.

On the Democratic side, the campaign was dull as a result of serious opposition.

Senator Myers, rounding out his first term as legislative leader, has as his gubernatorial running mate Philadelphia City Treasurer Richardson Dilworth who broke the GOP front in Philadelphia last November.

Opposing Dilworth is perennial candidate Henry A. Morris and Clarence P. Bowers. However, Bowers has not campaigned and has asked Democrats to vote for Dilworth. His name appears on the ballot because he did not withdraw his formal candidacy in time to have it stricken by the state elections bureau.

Backing up the Myers-Dilworth slate is Allegheny County Judge Michael A. Musmanno for lieutenant governor, State Sen. Frank W. Ruth for Internal Affairs Secretary, Lackawanna County Judge Michael J. Eagen for the Superior Court and Fayette County Judge Roy I. Carson for the Superior Court.

ness of the day was conducted by Rev. Patterson.

A decision was made that meetings of the association, from hence forth be held just once a month, with the next meeting scheduled for the first Monday in June, in charge of the new officers. All committees are to assemble at 9:30 a. m. prior to any regular meeting and then present their recommendations at the meeting. Meetings would convene at 10 a. m. and open with a 15-minute devotional period. Committees would study the needs of the community and present their recommendations to the regular meetings of the ministers.

Speaks at Length

Rev. A. E. Simon spoke at length on the matter of the post-dinner dance session which is scheduled by the parents committee and students following the regular dinner-dance of the high school seniors later this month. He told of his visit last week to the school board when he gave his views on the matter and the action of the New Castle Ministerial Association. The board, according to Rev. Simon, had not been notified of the action of the association. (At the April 17 meeting of the ministerium the to the all-night session of the high pastors voted as to being opposed school students.)

The committee appointed to investigate the possibility of conducting community services this coming summer, reported recently, stating that the committee was opposed to holding summer services this year due to lack of public interest. The association voted that the action of the committee be upheld and that the New Castle Ministerial Association go on record that they would not as a body back up the community services this summer. They left the summer program open to any group which would desire to take over this work.

Rev. W. A. Green of Winona Lake, Ind., was introduced by Woodson W. Collins, secretary of the Christian Business Men's Committee of this city. Rev. Green spoke in behalf of the city-wide revival campaign which will be conducted in this city from February 26 through March 18, 1951. He told of the work being done by Dr. Appleman over the country among the churches and the fine work he is doing in uniting church groups in the various communities. The campaign here, will be conducted in the Cathedral, under the auspices of the New Castle C.B.M.C. and cooperating churches.

Members of the association voted that the group commend the work of Dr. Appleman and the proposed campaign which will be conducted in New Castle next year.

Closing prayer of the session was given by Rev. Harry Johnson, pastor of the Edenburg Methodist church.

climaxed the Democratic Party's super show, the colorful "Jefferson Jubilee" which also brought to town Vice President Barkley, most members of the President's cabinet and other organization bigwigs.

Parade In City

A parade viewed by a crowd estimated variously at between 200,000 and 450,000 preceded Mr. Truman's speech.

In his address the President called for removal of "obstructionists" in Congress and for the election next November of Democrats to take their places.

The Chief Executive, speaking on the home grounds of the powerful Cook County Central Committee, specifically asked for the re-election of Senate Majority Leader Scott Lucas (D, Ill.).

Mr. Truman also had a good word for the other senator from his host state, Paul Douglas, who likewise is a Democrat.

The President pledged a continuous fight for passage of his welfare legislative program and for world peace. He made a strong plea for carrying out the party's 1948 platform.

Departing from his prepared text briefly, Mr. Truman said:

"I wish the opposition would come out for something so that we could have a real opposition party."

Binding Arbitration

The Brotherhood, representing 18,000 men and the railroads agreed to submit to binding arbitration the union's demand for a fireman on about 200 single-unit Diesels used for switching, mostly in small isolated yards.

Firemen now employed on these switch engines will remain on the job. New Diesel switchers, weighing less than 90,000 pounds but in service after June 1, also will be manned by firemen. An arbitration board shall decide the issue in all other cases involving switch engines.

The railroads agreed to end pay differentials for firemen employed on electric locomotives. These men now are paid less than firemen on coal-steam and Diesel engines. The differential varies from a few cents to a dollar a day.

The agreement terminated lay-offs affecting some 200,000 non-operating railroad employees.

The New York Central announced the majority of 50,000 laid-off workers would be called back immediately. Others will be back on the job by tomorrow.

The Pennsylvania said approximately 100,000 employees, thrown into idleness, will be returning to work within the next 48 hours.

The strike, which began May 10, also affected a portion of the Union Pacific—trains running between Los Angeles and Salt Lake City.

and was attempting to throw a hook over the top of the stack so that he could fashion a sling to pull himself to the top, when the hook failed to catch, falling down and striking him on top of the head. This knocked him off the ladder and he fell a distance of around 20 feet to the roof.

An ambulance was summoned and he was brought to the New Castle hospital, where he succumbed Monday evening from his injuries.

Mr. Becker was born in Dublin, Indiana, November 17, 1895, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Becker. He lived in New Castle for 39 years and was a steeple jack by occupation. For the past 20 years he had been married to his wife, Helen Becker.

The deceased was a member of St. Mary's church, the American Legion, and the Elfract Singing Society.

In addition to his wife, he leaves his children: Margaret, Alice, Sandra, Mary June, Judith Ann, David Carl, Sharon Ann and Samuel Keith Becker.

Also surviving are a brother, Ash Winters, of Red Key, Ind.; and sister, Mrs. Goldie Ranson, of Denton, Texas.

The body is at the DeCarbo funeral home, East Lutton at Cunningham, where friends may call anytime after 7 p. m. this evening. Funeral arrangements will be announced tomorrow.

again this morning at the home of British Foreign Secretary Bevin. According to reports which reached International News Service from reliable informants, the developments which led to this conclusion about the Soviet military timetable were:

During the course of preliminary discussions held in London prior to the meeting of the big three foreign ministers, the question of when Russia's rearmament effort would reach a war footing was considered.

On the basis of available intelligence reports and calculations of American officials, this was estimated to be 1954.

More Likely Date

British experts were inclined to think that 1956 was a more likely date. However, the British and French finally agreed to accept the American estimate.

This was the joint calculation contained in the experts' report submitted to the three major western governments.

When American Secretary of State Acheson conferred with British Foreign Secretary Bevin in London prior to the arrival of French Foreign Minister Schuman for big three talks the experts' report was considered.

Acheson conveyed, he and Bevin decided that the estimated date of Russia's possible preparedness for war must be advanced to the end of 1952, instead of 1954.

This conclusion was brought to the attention of Schuman at their first meeting and the French minister agreed with their judgment.

A BEAUTIFUL FUNERAL HOME

When a family is called upon to make funeral arrangements for one of their loved ones, and their home is not suitable for holding the funeral, it is quite proper in this day and age, to make these arrangements at a suitable funeral home, which in most cases is more spacious, with much more room, more parking space, and beautiful surroundings.

When you are called on to make these arrangements, we ask you to consider our beautiful funeral home, at the corner of Moody and Delaware, which has all of these accommodations, a number of large rooms, lots of parking space, and located in a quiet section where one is not disturbed by vehicles. This Home is used for nothing but funerals, no funeral goods of any kind kept or stored there, surrounded by beautiful trees and three acres of ground. Think of this Home when making these arrangements, and you will not be disappointed.

Moderate

We appreciate that very often there is a limited budget for the last final rites. For such clients we advise a modest funeral—the living must be regarded as well as those who have passed on. In any case—whatever the cost—the arrangements are complete, beautiful and reverent. We do not want people to spend more than they can afford.

Vows were exchanged Saturday, May 13 at 11 a. m., with H. M. Reynolds officiating at the ceremony in his home on the Youngstown road.

The youthful bride was attractively attired in a street length dress of blue satin. Pretty features were its short sleeves and high neckline. Her only jewelry was a necklace belonging to the groom's aunt. A blue veil and a corsage of roses and snapdragons completed the picture.

Mrs. William Llewellyn, sister of the bride, attended as matron of honor. She wore a blue dress, featured with a dainty high neckline. Pleasing accents were a blue veil and corsage of roses and snapdragons.

Bridesmaid was Miss Audrey Altman, sister of the bride. Her blue street length dress was featured with a V-shaped neckline. Roses and snapdragons and a blue veil complimented the ensemble.

William Llewellyn served the groom as best man. Usher for the occasion was Gregory DeCaprio.

A wedding reception was held at the home of Mrs. John Lombardo, 104 South Wayne street, at 7 o'clock. Approximately 60 guests were in attendance.

Little scrolls with pictures of the principals were at each place setting. Favors were small sprinkling cans and a large sprinkling can was surrounded by a miscellaneous collection of gifts.

The hostess was aided in serving by her mother, Mrs. A. H. Robb and her sister, Miss Janet Robb. Mrs. Louis Beckert and Mrs. Donald Rice were special guests.

Hopeful Note Of Peace

A hopeful note of future peace and progress emerged from the big three foreign ministers' conference in London with disclosure of major emphasis on the development of Africa.

From the headline point of view, this was subordinated to such affairs as intensification of allied dynamism in the cold war, the integration of Germany into western European councils, France's coal and iron program and firm retention of controls in Berlin.

But actually, and upon the benign assumption that the present east-west schism need not flare into war, the African plans may prove to be of prime importance.

The approach to this still large undeveloped continent came about through French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman's insistence that his proposal to fuse the coal and iron reserves of France and Germany need not jeopardize British industrial interests.

Have Enormous Stakes

Belgium, which would be a component part of the Franco-German amalgamation if it develops, has enormous stakes in Africa.

So has France. Germany no longer has any colonial holdings there. But as time goes on and with restoration of German equality, a new movement may arise in the Reich for a new foothold in Togoland and the Cameroons, for example.

This was on Adolf Hitler's program. It never did eventuate, of course.

But few colonial experts will deny that Hitler's almost forgotten predecessor, imperial Germany, had an enviable record for progress in this field although charges have been made that Teutonic colonializers maintained a cruelly tyrannical rule.

Yet the same charges have been made against Belgium in the Congo, Holland in the East Indies and even England—not only as regards Africa—but India and Burma as well.

Militarily Strategic

At the present moment, with the alleged inevitability of another world war being dinned into the ears of everyone, Africa's importance is a militarily strategic one. There is the Suez canal, great allied air bases in North Africa, a constantly expanding network of roads and railways in the interior and forward-looking movements to bring into unity and full mutual collaboration vast colonial areas that for the meantime lack a really effective interlockment.

And there are immeasurable African resources that have not been tapped. Attention naturally has been focussed on gold and diamonds. But the diversified that Africa must hold within her tightly-locked offshoots uranium other than within the Congo and other atomic materials that can propel civilization to its destruction or to undreamed progress and prosperity.

As of the present, Great Britain

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

A MEMORIAL THAT LIVES ON

When President James A. Garfield's second son, James R., died recently, at 84, after a distinguished career, he was president of the Cleveland Board of Trustees of the Cleveland Hearing and Speech Center. He had asked that no flowers be sent to his funeral but that contributions be donated to the Hearing and Speech Center instead. What a worthy model.

No long ago a neighbor we all greatly loved passed away. Wishing to pay our respects, a number of us went about the rural area where I live to collect money to send flowers for this purpose. I was assigned a certain road. Everybody cheerfully contributed and at the funeral the front of the country church was stacked with lovely flowers.

When the matter was put up to Mrs. Myers and we could only agree to cooperate fully. But I have to confess that I thought that such a fund might well be used to establish a memorial fund for the church maintenance, for the much-needed church organ, or for the hospital under construction. A few weeks later Mrs. Myers, returning from a meeting of the hospital board, told me of the gifts recently made to the hospital, in lieu of flowers, in honor of an outstanding citizen of the county seat who died. A little later we learned of a gift of several books to the local library made in honor of another passing citizen of that town.

Instead of Flowers

More recently, at a business meeting of our rural union church this matter came up and the growing new practice of imperishable gifts for a cause instead of flowers at funerals was presented. The person presenting this matter did so in connection with the problem of church finances and explained that then, when no funeral was pending, this matter could be considered objectively.

There seemed to be general agreement that this wise way should prevail. A number of individuals expressed the wish that if anyone wished to pay respects when they had died, they hoped it would be in the form of a fund that would live on and on right here.

Fortunately, there is a growing practice among discriminating persons announcing a death in the family to request that no flowers be sent. While something may be said for a few flowers at funerals, just imagine how many debts of hospitals and churches could have been wiped out, how much better our hospitals could have been equipped, how much better our starving preachers could have been paid, and how much more money could have been available for the scores of other human services, if most of the money spent last year for floral gifts at funerals had been gifts to an imperishable cause.

is the principal activator of increased development in Africa and her work is by no means entirely directed toward defense in a future war.

Dominions and colonies have fallen away from the mother islands and the British are concentrating not exactly with desperation but with feverish intensity, upon areas such as Kenya and the Rhodesias which remain solidly within the commonwealth fabric.

France too has extensive plans for her colonial holdings whenever European stability is sufficiently restored to enable new expansion abroad.

Belgium, with a tenacity characteristic of her stolid, hard-working people, never lost grip of her African holdings and has escaped the native rebellions which have cost Holland the East Indies and threaten someday to detach Malaya from the British crown.

As colonialists from way back, the Canulle Saint-Saens, noted French composer, was born in Paris, Oct. 3, 1835. When only 18 he was appointed church organist at the Church of St. Merry, and later served in that capacity at the Madeleine. In 1867 his cantata, "The Wedding of Prometheus," won first prize at an international exhibition. He first attracted general attention as a composer with "Dance Macabre," "Phaeton" and "The Youth of Hercules." His Biblical opera, "Samson and Delilah," was brought out in Weimar, Germany, in 1877, was successful and still is. Later operas were "Henry VIII," "Proserpine," a comic opera, and others. Three symphonies, four symphonic poems, three violin concertos, five for piano, a Mass and Requiem, besides a quantity of piano and organ music and many songs were also composed by him. He died in Algiers on December 16, 1921.

Edward Winslow, one of the founders of the Plymouth colony in Massachusetts, was born in Droitwich, England, October 18, 1595. In 1617 he moved to Leyden, Holland, and was one of the Pilgrims sailing for the new world in the Mayflower. His wife died soon after their arrival in America and he married, in 1620, Susannah White, mother of Peregrine White, first white child born in New England. He was governor of the colony three times. He was friendly with the Indians, the Indian sachem, Massasoit, bringing his two young sons to him to be given English names. He named them Alexander and Philip, the latter being the King Philip of the Indian rebellion which bears his name. He was sent to England on several occasions, and stayed a number of years, serving in various offices under Oliver Cromwell. The latter sent him against the West Indies, and he died at sea in 1655.

THE VIOLETS

When April with her showers sweet
Suffuses earth with moisture meet—
My heart is filled with fond regrets
At memory of the violets.

Long years ago when life was young
We stampt the fields, the flowers among—
When retrospection time forgets
I roam among the violets.

We came upon them when the sun
His daily course had almost run—
They bent their heads like shy coquettes,
That purple host of violets.

A carpet on the field they lay
Resplendent at the close of day—
A vast expanse of flowerets,
These were no shrinking violets.

Erect they stood among the grass,
Determined they its height to pass—
Surpassing tall like bayonets,
Was this great field of violets.

No Persian carpet could compare
With them in all their beauty rare—
As setting sun threw silhouettes
Of trees upon our violets.

Reluctantly we left the scene
As evening fell, they stood serene—
Till dark night spread its coverlets
Upon the happy violets.

Now when life's evening's drawing nigh
Act on my friendly couch I lie—
Fondly reverie the past begets,
I dream about our violets.

Truman's Point 4 Program

WASHINGTON, May 16.—By a squeak margin of one vote the Senate adopted the Point 4 program to give technical and other assistance to countries in need of such help. Here is Senator Taft in the closing hours of debate on the foreign aid bill:

"Under it (Point 4) is proposed that $45,000,000 more of the American taxpayers' money be spread around the world in places where there's no particular demand for it. It is simply an idea summoned out of someone's mind of some other way the government money can be spent of some other way the United States can go around the world and assume to interfere with the affairs of other people and try to improve the standards of living of other people."

"Beyond Our Capacity"
"Mr. President, this nation is wholly incapable of improving the standards of living of peoples of India and China. That is beyond our capacity."
Senator Taft should read for his education the reports for the last 20 years or so of the Rockefeller Foundation. He should read the reports of medical missionaries sent by various American churches to remote parts of the world. He is denying the great accomplishments of Americans in introducing new techniques in health, in agriculture, in industrial production, in raising living standards of peoples everywhere. This is something we can all take pride in. It

Nation pickle week starts Thursday but you are not supposed to wire congratulations to anyone for getting us into it.

And you are not expected to send pickles to your best friends.

According to pickle scholars, Cleopatra was a dill-devotee although history seems to indicate there was more on the sweet and mixed side.

And we are also told that Caesar, Tiberius and Queen Elizabeth were pickle fans. . . . No presidents are listed although one puckers easily when crossed.

All I know about pickles is they provide a good way to dispose of cucumbers for people who don't like cucumbers.

Now if some genius will find a way to pickle a potato . . .

is part of the American achievement, the American heritage.

Three days after the Taft speech the Rockefeller Foundation published its review of work done around the world in 1949. It is a stirring account of what American techniques, American brains, American good will can do.

Thrilling Story
One of the most thrilling stories is the project on the Italian island of Sardinia. For hundreds of years Sardinia has been known as an unhealthy place to live because of the widespread prevalence of malaria. Sardinia, with its 9,300 square miles, supported only one-third as many persons per square mile as the overcrowded mainland of Italy because people didn't want to go there to live.

In 1946 the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration supplied the funds for an attack on the plague of malaria and the malarial mosquito on Sardinia. The Rockefeller Foundation supplied the trained experts and $375,000 in additional money. After three years of intensive work malaria has been wiped out and the malarial mosquito all but destroyed. In 1949 for the first time in history not a single case of malaria was reported. The total cost to the end of 1950 will be about $12,000,000. This is how the Rockefeller report sums up:

Numerous Benefits

"While the project is still in the mopping-up stages and must be followed by strict quarantine and insect-control services, numerous benefits are already apparent. The absence of malaria has significantly raised the health level of the population. House-spraying operations, which wiped out flies and other domestic insects as well as mosquitoes, have lowered infant mortality rates and the incidence of intestinal infection. The elaborate program of drainage and clearing, which was essential in the island-wide operations, has made available a great many acres of land for human habitation and agricultural development."

"The island, formerly an economic liability, is emerging as Italy's new frontier. Sardinia is now a healthy place to live and work."

Essence of Thing
While this may not be exactly the pattern of Point 4, it is in essence the sort of thing that would be done. American know-how would be exported on a modest scale where it is desperately needed. It is an enormous stimulus to better living in large areas of the earth.

The defeatist, the pessimist, the cynic says, "Oh, what do you want to do that for? You keep more of those substandard people alive and then they produce faster and you just have another kind of a problem in starvation and overpopulation."

There might have been some truth in that 20 years ago. But new techniques of agriculture, health, industry and so on today make it possible for almost everyone in the world to live on the right side of the hunger line and in comparatively good health. Such a tough-minded Scotsman as Lord Orr (winner of the last Nobel peace prize) has said this repeatedly and out of his great store of knowledge of how peoples everywhere live and eat.

America has the knowledge, the skill. It is one of our sources of real strength. It is our most effective answer to communism.

MADISON, Wis.—President Truman—"One nation today is doing everything it can, short of war, to prevent common international action, among nations."

BOSTON—John E. Hearne, Irish ambassador to the United States—"There is nothing more cruel that can befall a people, a nation and its people than to divide it."

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—John Sirjamski, Yale professor of sociology—"A high divorce rate is logically necessary when marriages are based on individualist and erotic criteria."

WASHINGTON—John Foster Dulles—"If there were 50 divisions today in western Europe that were equipped and ready to fight we wouldn't worry much about the size of our army."

Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright 1949, By The Baltimore Sun)

Reaction To Mr. Hoover

WASHINGTON, May 16. AFTER two weeks, it is interesting to note that the reaction to Mr. Herbert Hoover's proposal that some way be found to reorganize the United Nations without the Communist states whose clear purpose is to reduce it to futility, has settled into a pattern, with Administration officials feeling they must deprecate the idea, though not violently, while public sentiment generally strongly favors it. Soon or late, the question Mr. Hoover raised is again going to become acute and has got to be answered.

THE official contention still is that with the Soviets excluded there would exist no genuine world forum for debate or contact. It would be, it is held, a "step backward" which would intensify the cold war and break down the only bridge across the chasm between the two hostile camps. In the other hand, according to members of Congress, the popular reception is overwhelmingly favorable. People, as a whole, are thoroughly fed up with the Russian United Nations recalcitrance and are convinced that the undoubted Soviet strategy is to make us waste our time, energy and money on an organization they are determined to see gets nowhere and does nothing. For five years they have been playing this game. It is a long while to be a sap. It is time to do something about it.

CERTAINLY, that is the general feeling throughout the country. As a matter of fact most officials who criticized the Hoover proposals feel he has performed a service by centering attention upon a situation that grows more intolerable every year and for the betterment of which there seems exceedingly slim hope. The only violent opposition came from a few individual and incurable "Hoover haters" such, for example, as Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Others include some of our leading "liberal" columnists. Mrs. Roosevelt strained tried to picture Mr. Hoover as trying to plunge us into war, an "odd thing," she thought, "for a Quaker to do."

THIS, of course, was pretty low but no more vicious than the repetition in her recent book of the false and slanderous statements about Mr. Hoover and the Communist-inspired bonus march in Washington while he was President. After ex-Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley had sent Mrs. Roosevelt the undeniable fact flatly contradicting her account, she accepted them as authentic but characteristically failed to make any correction or express regret. As for the "liberal" columnists, their interpretation is that Mr. Hoover as an "Old Guard Republican politician" has now exhibited himself as leader of the isolationists. In view of Mr. Hoover's record, not only as a strong advocate of the United Nations but as one of the earliest and most earnest proponents of the old League of Nations, that is as silly as it is unworthy. It would seem inspired by personal animosity.

ACTUALLY, the best-informed judgment now is that the Hoover speech has been the most helpful and wholesome made in this country for a long time. Instead of enfeebling bipartisan foreign policy, it is designed to invigorate it. Instead of weakening the United Nations, it seems the only way to rescue it from complete futility. Certainly, it has cleared the atmosphere of a great deal of false pretense and focused the light on a situation that cannot be tolerated indefinitely. It has shown up the Russian scuttling plans and made it plain that soon or late the United States must clamp down. There is abundant evidence that the Soviet leaders will not voluntarily give up their United Nations membership nor the veto which enables them to strangle it. At this time, as Mr. Hoover himself said, his proposal may not be practical, but it easily may serve a great purpose by convincing the Russians that our patience is pretty well exhausted and that we will not continue longer to permit them to play us for suckers.

REALIZATION of this, it is held, is why Mr. Stalin made possible the Moscow visit of Secretary General Trygve Lie, who hopes to find a way to end the cold war. It is also a reason for believing that at the September session of the United Nations the Soviet truculence will be diminished and their attitude less impossible. The truth is that exclusion from the United Nations is the last thing the Russians want. It would lose them a great propaganda advantage which they have skillfully exercised for five years. The Hoover proposal and its popularity has put them on a spot. Mr. Hoover is not a man to make impulsive, ill-considered suggestions; nor one to take a man to make impulsive. One would think that his great experience in national and international affairs, including the ten years of his life spent in Russia, would equip him to discuss the issues between the Soviets and ourselves at least as well as his critics. Most persons would say better.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Charles L. Wallis, professor of English at Keuka college in upper New York state, has sent me an advance copy to a book just completed by him.

It is called "Poems of Edwin Markham" and contains 187 pages of that much discussed writer's verse, including his famous "The Man With the Hoe."

What interests me most about the book is Professor Wallis's accompanying letter. Naturally, he praises Edwin Markham to the skies as a man with a spiritual message; a man who HAD to write poetry; as a genius of noblest aspirations. I am not qualified to discuss Edwin Markham as a poet. Whether he was a good poet or not is something for the authorities on poetry to decide.

Professor Wallis says in his letter that the reviewers of the book will "damn and praise Markham's poetry as art."

What is ART? Perfection of meter? Technique? Compliance with rules and regulations?

Perfect art is perfect appeal to the heart.

Art is the power to make you laugh or to cry.

Art is the ability to raise your spirit from the ground and lift you into the skies.

Art makes you dream and hope and live and love.

If you FEEL it, it is ART—no matter how crude, how naive, how primitive it may be.

You can have your most complicated, technically perfect symphony, full of arpeggios and what have you.

Technically it may be the epitome of musical science. It leaves me completely cold. So it isn't ART, as far as I am concerned.

Then take a simple little lullaby by Schubert. I feel it. It takes me back to my childhood when my mother sang it to me. It sweeps away the years and starts a chain of a thousand pleasant thoughts in me. That IS art!

The most artless musical instrument I know is the ukulele. Ping, ping, ping, strum, strum, strum. Authorities on musical art sneer at it.

But recently that magician salesman, Arthur Godfrey, talked my wife into buying one (together with his orange juice which goes with the ukulele lessons).

Now, every evening, as the dinner is cooking she sits in the kitchen and practices on her ukulele.

As she strums those simple chords, she sings the old folk songs that she hadn't sung for many years.

And I, reading my evening paper, waiting for my dinner, become infected and catch myself joining her in her little songs—and in the little dreams that go with them.

That IS ART!

In Professor Wallis's book there is one short Markham poem I want to quote before I leave you:

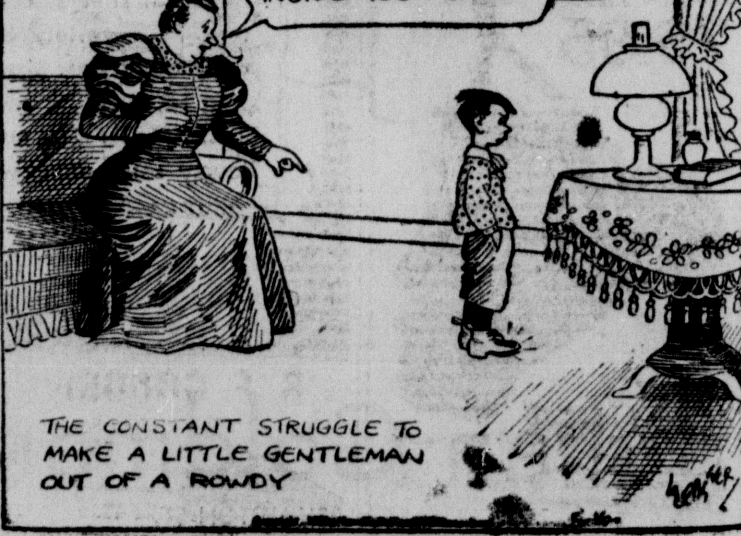

"I dare not ask your very all:
I only ask a part.
Bring me—when dancers leave the hall—
Your aching heart."

"Give other friends your lighted face,
The laughter of the years:
I come to crave a greater grace—
Bring me your tears!"

Vacancy In Annapolis Announced

Congressman Graham Gives Information To Any Interested

The Navy Department informs me that the 25th Congressional District of Pennsylvania will be entitled to the appointment of ONE MIDSHIPMAN to the United States Academy in 1951.

No Vacancy at West Point is expected for our District in 1951. The following information will be helpful to all the boys who are interested in the appointment to the Naval Academy.

Age: Candidates for admission to the U. S. Naval Academy must not be less than seventeen years of age nor more than twenty-one years of age on April 1st of the calendar year in which they enter the Academy; provided, that any candidate who has served honorably not less than one year in the armed forces of the United States during any of the recent wars and who possesses the qualifications required by law may be admitted between the ages of seventeen and twenty-three years.

Physical Requirements: Because of exacting physical requirements for appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy, preliminary physical examination before Naval Medical Officers will be authorized for all applicants, as such action may eliminate the possibility of candidates being nominated and passing the written examination only to be rejected by the medical officer of the Navy Department.

Residence: All applicants must be actual, bona fide residents of the 25th Congressional District of Pennsylvania, composed of Butler, Lawrence and Beaver counties.

Method Of Appointment: Competitive, qualifying examinations will be conducted by the U. S. Civil Service Commission for all boys desiring to be considered for these appointments. There will be one Principal, and three Alternates for the vacancy. The appointments will be made on the basis of the results of these examinations and the ratings furnished me by the Commission. The policy has proven very satisfactory as it grants to all those interested an equal opportunity; therefore, no personal interviews or letters of recommendation are necessary, unless specially requested.

Place And Date Of Examination: All qualified applicants desiring to compete in the preliminary examinations must notify me at Room 1628 NEW HOUSE OFFICE BUILDING, Washington, D. C., not later than Friday, May 26th. Because of the large volume of work necessary in arranging for the examinations, applications received after May 26th cannot be considered. Those interested should write at once for an application blank and they will be furnished full details and given every consideration.

TO WHOM SHOULD PARTY LATECOMER BE INTRODUCED?
Question: When a guest comes late to a party, should he be introduced to the assembled guests or individually?

Answer: To a small bridge party yes—he should be introduced individually. But at a large gathering, it is customary, particularly among young people, to introduce a newcomer to the assembled guests.

Question: I have been told that it is incorrect for a girl to say: "I was introduced to him." Is this so?

Answer: Yes. Women are never introduced to men. Say: "I met him." "He was introduced to me"—also correct—sounds stilted.

Question: I am going to be married in a tailored traveling suit. What should my maid-of-honor wear?

Answer: She should wear either a tailored dress or suit and a shoulder corsage rather than an arm bouquet. The bride attendant should dress in the same type of clothes as those worn by the bride—formal or informal.

Question: I plan to have a birthday party for my niece who will soon be six years old. What is suitable to serve at a party for children?

Answer: Ice cream and cake are sufficient for a mid-afternoon party. No children's party is complete without them. At an early evening party for older youngsters sandwiches and milk or soft drinks may first be served.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Telephone Man

For 42 years, Bayard Homsher served Bell Telephone customers... as an installer, as a repairman, and in central offices.

Today, five years after retiring, Bayard Homsher is still a "telephone man." "If I had to do it all over again," he says, "I'd still want to work for Bell."

Like other telephone people, he was able to plan his retirement. With steady work, with security against loss of pay through sickness or accident, and with the knowledge that he would receive a pension on retiring, he was able to save enough of his earnings to buy his home outright, and to bring up a family of two children.

Bell's Pension and Benefit Plan is important to many hundreds of retired telephone people in Pennsylvania... and to many thousands of telephone men and women on the job today. It's important also to telephone users; for by good wages, steady employment, and financial security this company attracts the kind of people necessary to provide consistently good telephone service.

French and British are fully alive to the tremendous potentialities of Africa, which is by no means a continent of aboriginal witch-doctors and sleek-skinned blacks who divide their time between tom-toms and headhunting.

Schuman made a typically shrewd move by exciting United States interests by a proposal to tie African development in with President Truman's point 4 program for relief of backward nations and people.

This in turn is linked with the whole drive against communism, for it has been clearly established that areas most endangered by the red tide are those which lack modern facilities and creature comfort. In this stage of their discussions, the big three trod on peaceful and rewarding ground. Africa may take first place in world consideration if and when the current war scares are eliminated from public consciousness.

Campbell, candy sale; Mrs. Sam Vanass, Christmas tree project; Mrs. Paul Glover, Christmas card project; Mrs. C. Shaeffer, membership; Mrs. G. Book, hospitality; Mrs. T. E. Hartman, publicity and procedure book; Mrs. Gail Borst, publications; Mrs. Paul Glover, budget and finance; and Mrs. J. Susko, local unit and goal sheets. Reports were mailed to the state chairmen.

Conference Report
Mrs. James Leasure, who attended the Southwest District Conference at Washington, Pa., in April, gave an interesting resume of the meeting.

An election of officers for the City P.T.A. Council will be held May 13. A committee meeting of this group was held at the home of John Cornelius, principal, on a recent evening. A slate of new officers was nominated at that time. At the present time each unit is permitted three voting members. Representing Oak Street will be Mrs. Gerald Book, new president; Mrs. John Susko, parent representative, and Miss Betty Hoiver, teacher representative.

The group voted to send Mrs. James Leasure, new first vice president, to Mansfield, Pa., on June 10 to 14. She will attend the summer session school for instruction in P.T.A. work. Her expenses will be paid by the treasury.

The new unit officers were installed. Those taking the oath were: Mrs. Gerald Book, president; Mrs. James E. Leasure, first vice president; Mrs. Arthur Shaffer, second vice president; Mrs. R. Fabian, secretary; Mrs. William McCullough, assistant secretary; Mrs. Paul Glover, treasurer; and Mrs. Wallace Rainey, assistant treasurer.

The group was entertained by Gene Adamczyk of the Hammond Music school, who played three selections on the accordion. A film entitled "Who Will Teach Your Child" was shown by Mr. Cornelius.

In closing, Mrs. Susko, retiring president, thanked the committees and the entire group for their fine cooperation during the year. Thanks were extended to Mrs. Susko by the group in appreciation of her efforts for a successful P.T.A. year.

A Penny March was held, with the money counted by Mrs. S. Vanass and Mrs. C. Schaeffer.

Delicious refreshments were later served by the chairlady, Mrs. Gerald Book, and co-hostess, Mrs. F. Sholler. Aides were Mrs. C. Shumate, Mrs. G. Borst, Mrs. W. Lambright and Mrs. R. Loy.

It was announced that Thurman

Blake, of New Wilmington high school had the highest rating in the examination conducted Saturday morning at New Castle Senior High, competing against 11 other students from Bessemer, New Castle, Ellwood City, and New Wilmington high schools. Bus Drivers In Pittsburgh Area To Strike Thursday

PITTSBURGH, May 16.—(INS.)—About 800 bus drivers will strike in Allegheny county and surrounding areas Thursday to enforce demands for a 25 to 27-cent hourly wage increase and better working conditions.

The walkout will affect transportation in an area of 500,000 population, and have its greatest effect in the eastern and southern sections of the county.

Officers of divisions 84, 1063 and 1214, AFL amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees blamed necessity for the strike on refusal of the bus line owners to arbitrate the controversy.

Pittsburgh will not be immediately affected because the Pittsburgh Railways and Pittsburgh Motor Coach companies have agreed to arbitration.

Approximately 150,000 commuters have been using emergency transportation because of the 14-day-old strike of 130 Harmony Short Lines bus drivers who want a wage increase.

Roof Fire Occurs At Refractories Co.

Three fire companies were called to the plant of the New Castle Refractories company at 10:12 a. m. today, where the roof was afire on one of the buildings. Damage of several hundred dollars was done. Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink stated today.

It was found that a brick was missing from one of the kilns, which permitted the flame to ignite surrounding material.

Withholding Tax On Corporation Dividends Eyed

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(INS.)—The house ways and means committee may decide today to impose a 10 per cent withholding tax on corporation dividends.

Treasury and committee aides estimate that such a tax would bring in an additional 100 to 150 million dollars a year in revenue. The tax legislators have been discussing the proposal, which has apparently been under consideration by the treasury for some time.

It is one of the many proposals advanced to raise new revenue and offset the one billion 77 million dollars in excise tax cuts already approved.

Farewell Event Honors Hurst

Noon Dinner Program For Rev., Mrs. Hurst

Members of the New Castle Ministerial association and their wives honored Rev. and Mrs. Oliver W. Hurst at a farewell dinner Monday at noon in the First Methodist church. Rev. Hurst will leave the city June 1 to assume his duties as pastor of the First Baptist church of Hamilton, O.

Retiring president of the Ministerial association, Dr. Robert M. Patterson, served as master-of-ceremonies, capably introducing the participants on the brief program. Following the serving of the delicious chicken dinner by the women of the church, the guests on the program were presented. Dr. J. Paul Graham, new president of the ministerium, offered the invocation.

Rev. Henry J. Payden, pastor of St. Paul's Baptist church, effectively sang "He Understands," dedicating it to Rev. and Mrs. Hurst. Mrs. Walter Bender presided at the piano.

Mrs. Everett Spring was called upon to speak in behalf of Mrs. Hurst. She pointed out the numerous activities of Mrs. Hurst, revealing her devotion as a mother, her untiring church work and lauding her radiant personality which won her a high place in the hearts of those with whom she associated.

Mrs. Hurst Responds

Mrs. Hurst fittingly responded, telling of the fellowship and communion she has enjoyed in the city, which will always mean much to her, although the family may travel far from New Castle in the days that lie ahead.

Dr. Patterson asked Rev. A. E. Simon to speak of the work accomplished by Rev. Hurst among the churches of the city and of the invaluable assistance he has given as a member of the Ministerial association. Using the parable of the talents, Rev. Simon enumerated the various talents in his estimation were found in the life of Rev. Hurst. These were: a real preacher; a man of prayer; practical; player and personality. He commended the departing pastor for his work and expressed the sentiment of the association in stating that the departing pastor "had the approval of God" upon his ministry.

Makes Reply

Rev. Hurst's response to the tribute given him was spoken with deep appreciation, stating that the words were those of encouragement and warmed his heart deeply. He and Mrs. Hurst were enriched in friendship because of their associations in New Castle and that every day of their stay here has been grand fellowship.

The program concluded with Rev. Payden singing as a solo, "Breathe On Me," with Mrs. Bender assisting at the piano. A brief informal period was enjoyed following the dinner program, in which God-speed was wished upon the Hursts.

Mrs. Paul Aley was responsible for the dinner arrangements and reservations.

Sen. McCarthy Is Accused By Sen. Myers

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Acting Senate Majority Leader Myers (D) Pa., accused Sen. McCarthy (R) Wis., today of a deliberate and malicious attempt to undermine U. S. leadership abroad by demanding the dismissal of Secretary of State Acheson.

Myers' attack on McCarthy coincided with a suggestion by Sen. Brewster (R) Me., GOP senatorial campaign chairman, that "for the good of the country" President Truman find a new secretary of state.

The Democratic leader asserted that McCarthy "seems to be more interested in the next election than he does in the future well being and peace of America and the world." Myers continued:

"Dean Acheson is engaged in a most important conference with the foreign ministers of European nations to further strengthen the free world against communist aggression and infiltration.

"This reckless and political demand for his resignation is a deliberate and malicious attempt to undermine America's leadership in foreign affairs and to jeopardize our constructive efforts towards world peace.

Brewster declined to endorse McCarthy's charge that Acheson has executed a "betrayal plan" in the far east. But he warned that Mr. Truman cannot "laugh off" the communism issue.

The Yankees managed to get along for almost half of last season without DiMaggio. The Yankee bench took care of that. There was always somebody to fill in and couldn't go half a season without Williams.

Mother's Day Services Held At Henry Home

Ideal weather helped to make a good success of the Mother's Day services held annually at the Margaret Henry Children's Home by the auxiliary and the Aerie of the Eagles of New Castle, No. 455.

Ellie McCracken, chairman of the Eagles Margaret Henry Home Mother's Day committee, introduced the speakers.

The ladies ritualistic team with Captain Adaline Navarra, marched to the monument erected in 1940 to the memory of Margaret L. Henry, founder of the home and formed an honor guard before the monument, as the audience sang America.

Rev. Thomas Jones offered the invocation.

The children of the home then marched behind the guests of honor and presented lovely flowers which were placed in an urn in the monument by members of the auxiliary.

A trio consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Navarra and Henry Jenkins sang "Mother". Mrs. Jenkins was pianist.

President Elsie Pugh developed laryngitis and was unable to make the presentation of gifts. Mrs. Cecelia Jackson presented to the matrons of the home, Mrs. Lida Green, and Miss Bertha Patterson, gifts from the auxiliary for their wonderful work in giving the children love and care and a feeling of security that can only be given by women who love children of all ages. To the auxiliary's retiring Honorary Mother of the Year, Mrs. Margaret Krueger was given a gift of remembrance and to the year Mrs. Henrietta Davis a gift of welcome from her 300 daughters of the auxiliary. Mrs. Davis gave a lovely speech of acceptance.

Mr. McCracken introduced Judge John J. Lamoree, who spoke of the wonderful work the late Margaret Henry started and the two matrons of the home were carrying on so successfully. He praised the services held each Mother's Day and the interest taken in the welfare of the home by The Eagles and the auxiliary. His address was much enjoyed by all those present, as were short talks by members of the board of trustees.

tees of the home, Ivor Davis, William Langdon and T. E. Chambers, also by Rev. Jones, Henry Navarra, trustee of The Eagles, and the Worthy President of The Eagles, George Cowan. William Sullivan, one of the boys of the home now in the marines, just returned from Okinawa, was introduced to the guests.

Rev. Jones then gave the benediction.

New Wilmington Kiwanis Members Hear Wesley Mann

Wesley Mann, of the New Castle Post Office, spoke to the members of the New Wilmington Kiwanis club Monday evening at their regular weekly dinner meeting.

He talked about the curtailment of the postal service and explained the effects it will have upon the letter carriers. He also explained the various expenditures and stated that first class mail is the only kind that pays its own way.

He listed various examples of where the department loses money on second, third and fourth class mail. After the talk, Mr. Mann answered questions for a short period.

E. L. Klinger of the West Middlesex Kiwanis club was a visitor at the meeting.

It was announced at the meeting that the Division Two dinner at Beaver Falls, honoring District Governor Thomas Jones, will be held May 25 at 6:30. A good-sized group from the New Wilmington club is expected to attend.

There will be a meeting of the board of directors Friday night at the home of Robert Kelly.

Next week's meeting will be an inter-club meeting with the West Middlesex club at New Wilmington. Earlier in the year the two clubs met at West Middlesex.

Rev. Robert Kelly, vice president of the club, will be chief speaker. He will talk on the Federal Confederation of Churches and will answer some of the statements by Flynn in "The Road Ahead", which was reviewed at the joint meeting of the two clubs at West Middlesex.

Legion Auxiliary Has Annual Dinner Monday

Members of the Perry S. Gaston Unit, American Legion Auxiliary, were hosts to the mothers with local Gold Star Mothers as special guests at the annual dinner in the Legion Home, Monday evening.

Tribute was also paid to the mothers by Rev. Thomas J. Jones, pastor of the First Congregational church, who also gave the invocation and benediction.

The welcome was given by Mrs. Edna Hedland, president of the auxiliary.

A program of entertainment was presented, which included readings by David Alter and Morton Markley; accordion numbers by Jimmy Suber, and vocal numbers by Doris Meister, accompanied by Mrs. Keagy.

Airport Bus Service Is Halted By Strike At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, May 16.—(INS)—Allegheny county airport bus service from Pittsburgh hotels today was halted by a strike of 41 Airlines Transportation company drivers.

Airlines passengers arriving at the airport or leaving downtown were dependent on taxi cabs.

The airlines drivers, members of AFL Taxi Cab Drivers, Local 128, struck last night, reportedly over the discharge of one driver.

A management spokesman said the strike was in violation of a no-strike clause in a contract which expires July 5 and which also provides that any deadlocked dispute be submitted to arbitration.

Roller Coaster
For CascadeCouncil Accepts
Roller Coaster Offer;
Other Council News

Cascade Park is to have a roller coaster almost 1,000 feet in length according to Parks Director Joseph F. Medure.

During council meeting in city hall Monday he submitted a motion to accept a roller coaster offer from Ted Castele.

Castele presented a bid to the city whereby he would pay $900 annual rental, or lease a plot of ground, payable as follows: 10 percent of gross receipts the first year, 15 the next and 25 percent for the following years.

Council accepted the percentage offer instead of the $900 annual flat price.

Some of the coaster is already completed at the factory, and Castele hopes to have the roller coaster operating within several weeks.

INSURE DANCE HALL

Council today decided to insure Rainbow terrace, the pavilion at Cascade Park, for $25,000, which will cost the city $1,009.25. Solons opine the building is worth that much, and if fire destroys it, the pavilion could not be replaced for that amount.

Social chairman, Camilla Augustine, and her committee arranged the affair and are due credit for its success.

Prepare For Convention

Committees Plan Engineers Sessions

Twelve committees have been planning for the past several months for the arrangements necessary to assure a successful convention for the 15th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Society of Professional Engineers, which opens at The Castleton on Friday of this week, May 19.

The many features of the convention will conclude with the banquet at the Cathedral on Saturday night when an opportunity is afforded to the public to join with the assembled members to hear General Leslie R. Groves, who directed the development and production of the first atomic bomb and was in complete charge of the atomic bomb project from its inception.

The Midwestern chapter, which includes Lawrence county and five other adjoining western Pennsylvania counties, is host to the convention and feels greatly honored to have General Groves as the principal speaker, and for that reason they wish to share the opportunity with other interested citizens of the area. Tickets may be obtained from the offices of the Greater New Castle Association or any engineer member of the society up until Wednesday.

Lloyd W. Strayer is general con-

Red Infiltration Depicted In Film Shown Rotary Club

New Castle Rotarians saw a film entitled "Crossroads of America," depicting the dangers imposed by Communism and how they infiltrate into our labor organizations and other bodies in this country at their luncheon meeting in the Castleton, Monday noon.

The film showed how they appear innocuous at first and later work into positions where they impose a real danger.

A. Wesley Mann, representing Branch 22, of the National Association of Letter Carriers, and Local 227, National Federation of Post Office Clerks, of this city, spoke to the club, about the recently ordered curtailment of mail service.

He urged Rotarians to write to their Congressmen and Senators protesting against this reduced mail service.

CRABMEAT

Tomatoes stuffed with crabmeat salad and a little chopped anchovy make a wonderful dish. For fancy service be sure to peel the tomatoes; you can do this by dipping them into water and then turning them over a flame until their skin bursts. Use a long-handled two-tined fork with which to hold them over the heat.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

"SUCH SELFISH YOUTH"

"... such selfish youth!" That's the way Mrs. B. ended a letter I received recently. She was indignant because youngsters in a 'teen-age canteen seemed to expect parents to furnish all the refreshments.

This business of selfishness is interesting. In many an instance parents themselves are responsible for it.

Take Mrs. Fox, for instance. She worked all day at an office and then came home at night to cook, wash, iron and otherwise keep her three boys and husband cared for. When they tried to help, she would have none of it. Apparently she got a lot of satisfaction out of doing things for her men folks and liked to tell others how much she did. After a while though, she tired of all the work and tried to get the boys to help. But they had become accustomed to having her do the whole thing and balked at it.

Selfish? Yes. But had they been encouraged when they wanted to help, it might have been a different story. Most human beings get a "kick" out of being able to do things for themselves and others. Most people like to stand on their own feet, but they can become accustomed to being selfish. Our job, as parents, is to give our growing youngsters opportunities to help out at the time they are eager to do so. If we do this and if we do our part, there won't be too much trouble with "selfish youth."

Volant Class Raises Fund To Aid Church

One of the first ventures in fund raising was undertaken by the Jolly Comrades class of the Volant Methodist church Saturday evening when they held a spaghetti supper in the church dining room.

This class is composed of a group of young people, nearly all of the high school set, Mrs. Paul Shaw, teacher, and Mrs. H. A. Silvis, assistant.

The supper Saturday was considered a success, the profit realized being much more than was expected. The event was sponsored for the purpose of raising funds for church improvement with the entire amount being presented to the minister to add to the monies set aside for the work.

Members of the class who served on the committee included Esther Black, president; Pearl Black, Donna and Etta Sickafuse, Lorraine Houston, Marleen Lesnett, Phyrn Holzhauser and Gladys Barr. Assisting on the kitchen committee were Mrs. W. Lesnett, Mrs. C. J. Houston, Mrs. Frank Barr, Mrs. James Sickafuse, Mrs. Silvis, Walt Lesnett and Paul Shaw. The latter served as substitute for Mrs. Shaw who was ill.

BUTCH'S FUNERAL

Butch will probably have a funeral some day but we are not very much interested in that.

We want Butch to live a long and useful life. We want him to be healthy in body and mind.

We will try to provide a good city government, good schools and good churches. We will help him to study and work and play.

We will try to protect him from disease.

He will have physical examinations when he goes to school, when he learns to drive and when he applies for a marriage license.

We will teach him how to walk and eat and talk and work.

He will probably need lots of help but the more he does for himself the better for him.

There are lots of diseases but "the gimmlies" is the worst of all.

Each patrol or crew that enters the camporee will be awarded a ribbon. The color will depend upon the score it obtains. Patrols and crews will compete against each other. The patrol and crew with the highest score will receive individual medals for members participating.

Observation will be made on packcraft, campercraft and cookcraft.

The camporee will be held at the council camp.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Officials of a New York department store are wondering how to make advertising capital of a recent contretemps with the minister of a little church in an upstate village. The minister returned five of six bath towels he had purchased in 1931, because they showed obvious signs of wear and tear. "I'd have sent the sixth too," he wrote, "but that would have left me none at this end."

The store replied that 18 years' service for towels that had retailed at less than a dollar apiece in the first place was not a bad record; they proposed, indeed, to send him six brand new towels in exchange for a testimonial.

The reverend accepted the proposition, specified that the new towels should be red, and saved his killer-diller for a postscript: "It may interest you to know that those towels were seconds when I bought them!"

Fighting Senators Down Youngstown In Thrilling Finish 7 To 6

Single By Bill Horne In Ninth Wins Contest, Keeps Senators On Top

Fighting back from a 4 to 0 deficit in the early innings New Castle's smart, hard-running Senators put on a sixth, seventh and ninth inning finish last night at Flaherty Memorial Field, that left a badly demoralized Youngstown team flabbergasted as the locals won 7 to 6, to remain on top of the Mid-Atlantic league heap.

Tonight Youngstown and New Castle will end their current three-game series, the game being billed for an 8 o'clock start.

Zedalis Goes Tonight

Manager Chuck Cronin announced last night that Stan Zedalis will try for his second victory tonight against the Senators. Manager Etchison will probably choose Allen Pfeiffer of Stanton, Virginia, a newcomer to the Athletics farm as his starting hurler, to try and salvage one game of the series.

In one of those "Frank Merriwell" finishes Bill Horne singled sharply to right field in the last of the ninth inning with one man away and Johnny Vizzini, who had singled and stole second, raced home with the important big run, as between 500 and 600 fans went slightly on the hysterics side and yelled vociferously.

Pitches One Ball, Wins

George Becka, the third New Castle hurler in the game last night got credit for the victory and only threw one ball, making Singleton, pop up to catcher Horne who threw Lavigne out at second as the Athletics shortstop streaked for the half-way station thinking Horne was asleep. This retired the side and put the fire out after John Magliolo opened the ninth with a single to left and scored as Manager Clarence "Buck" Etchison, former Boston Braves first sacker poled a long right-field walk home, to knot the count at 6-6.

Big Al Dunterman's double to left with the bases loaded in the sixth inning was one of the highlights of the thrilling battle. Magliolo fielded the ball badly, allowed it to get through him for an error and Dunterman wound up on third, scoring as Gene Bilo doubled, to left field.

Eikenberg, Horne, Vizzini Sparkle

Despite three errors, two of which cost New Castle three runs, The Senators sparked afield. George Eikenberg the cat-like shortstop handled ten chances otherwise, flawlessly, being on the receiving end of two beautifully executed pickoff plays at second by catcher Horne, who also picked off a steal by Magliolo in the second inning.

Johnny Vizzini the rookie first sacker also sparkled at first base making several great stops and throwing out the runner. He had three assists and seven putouts.

Parade Of Pitchers

There was a parade of seven hurlers to and from the mound last night—Youngstown used four—New Castle used three. Churchill seeking his third straight win, was lifted for a pinch-hitter (Dunterman) in the sixth, Carl Schultz relieving for 2 and 3/4 innings and Becka finishing to get credit for the win.

Youngstown used Bob Bassler, John Shields, William Harvey and Herb Heiserer, a 17-year old St. Louis rookie who was charged with the loss.

Athletics Get Jump

Youngstown got the jump on the Senators in the second inning showing over two runs as Eikenberg hurrying a double play ball to Danny Dondero at second threw into right field, allowing Lavigne and Singleton to cross the plate before the ball could be retrieved. Youngstown added another run in the third as Magliolo led off with a double, and was thrown out at second. Horne to Eikenberg, on an attempted steal. Etchison was safe as Horne dropped his infield pop up, and E. Richardson singled Etchison taking third, to score as Lavigne doubled to center.

The Athletics added another in the fifth as Richardson opened with a single, was forced at second Mouton to Dondero, Lavigne was run down between second and first. Singleton walked and scored as Higgins lifted a double to right field, over Kiel's head.

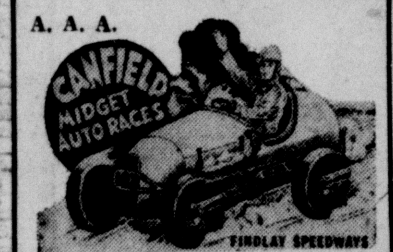

You Can't Beat Hustle

New Castle followed up their sixth inning five-run rally with a tally in the seventh, as Famiglietti was thrown at second by Richardson as Lavigne threw wild at first and "Shine" backing up the play snapped it to second. Vizzini drew a walk, so did Horne and Eikenberg and Vizzini tallied as relief hurler Carl Schultz hit into a force at second, Paolillo to Lavigne.

It was simply a case of hustle that won the ball game, the seventh for New Castle against two defeats, and made it three wins in a row over Erie and Youngstown.

You can't lick a team that refuses to be licked, seems to sum it up nicely.

Albert "Moose" Dunterman the big foot 3, 195 pound New Castle Senators catcher, whose pinch-double last night with the bases loaded, provided three big runs in the sixth-inning five-run rally that put the Senators in lead 5 to 4, the locals eventually winning in the hectic ninth 7 to 6, over Youngstown's Athletic farmhands.

School Golfers Enter Playoffs Friday Afternoon

New Castle high golf team enters the WPAL inter-sectionals golf playoffs Friday afternoon.

Coach Bob Mills' undefeated linksmen will meet the winner of Section 3, who is to be decided this week, on the Ellwood Country club course.

Ambridge and West View are currently fighting it out for top honors in the rival section. Three successive golf victories will be necessary before a championship can be won in the WPAL. There is no team inter-district championship in the PIAA.

Yesterday individual golfers played a qualifying round for the state tournament. Tom Cherok of Penn High was individual medalist with a 36-hole total of 150. Five other golfers qualified for the state meet.

Coach Bob Mills and several New Castle boys were on hand at Charters Country club for the action. Fred Quinn was the only local player to qualify after the morning round of eighteen. He wound up the day with a 36-hole total of 163 which was good for 13th place.

Sharon Daredevil Seeks Victory At Canfield Track

CANFIELD, O., May 16.—Back in the lineup for tomorrow night's program of stock racing at the Canfield Speedway will be Hap Jones of Sharon, Pa., in his well-known No. 7.

Jones is the boy who has been going fast and furious on the Canfield track, and in spite of the fact that he had some trouble with his car, is in fifth spot in points standing for the Ohio circuit of the NASCAR racing programs. First place is held by the veteran Bucky Sager of Toledo.

Jones is really one of the outstanding drivers in the field, and gives the fans plenty of action—he doesn't back off for any other driver. He hopes that he can be the feature victor at Canfield on Wednesday night.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

TAKE IT FROM SOMEONE WHO KNOWS—there are two kinds of fishermen: those who just fish, period, and those who pit their skill against nature.

Those who use their eyes and skill get all the fun out of the sport, and on top of that, fish. Of course you can't discount some luck, but taking everything into consideration, it's not all luck that puts trout in your creel every time you go astream.

Take the average angler. He arrives in his car, parks it as close to the stream as possible, gets out his equipment, nervously and quickly sets up his fly box, rummages around a bit, comes up with a fly, ties it on and makes a mad dash for the stream and starts to fish.

After awhile, he'll change to a different artificial fly until he finds that's not the right one either, and probably by the end of the day he leaves the stream with few trout, if any, in his creel.

You can bet your last dollar he'll go home and complain it just wasn't his lucky day. Fact is, he'll say, "I've never had luck when trout fishing," writes Carl Rogan of the I.N.S.

On the other hand, there's another kind of fly fisherman. When he arrives at the stream, he spends a few minutes looking around before choosing the right fly to start fishing with.

He'll find out what's going on in the air and the water first, and chances are the "luck" so often referred to will be a reality. . . . All because he used his eyes and a little common sense.

All this about perfect casting techniques, fancy flies and equipment is secondary to finding out what's going on in the water.

The observant angler notes mainly the kind of insects in the air and on the water. He notes their color and size, too, and then chooses a fly that is similar.

Almost any angler can take trout when they are biting, and you hit on what they are taking. It's when they aren't biting that you need a little skill and knowledge.

Take the things trout feed on mostly: nymphs, helgramites, flies and many other creatures that constantly are changing from one stage to another.

During the winter months when water temperatures usually run near freezing, trout feed very little because of the longer digestive period. But during this time aquatic insects continue to grow. By the time the trout's appetite is at its peak in March and April, the streams are heavy with many forms of insect life.

During the day, most of the water insects are found clinging to the stones or lodged under them. When the fisherman turns a stone up against the current, he can scoop up the life clinging to the stones and examine them to see what trout are feeding on.

And when the angler sees swollen wing sacs on these critters, then he knows that species is ready to hatch and is moving around slowly, making its way to the top of the water. So if ordinary bait isn't taking fish, you can be sure the fly fisherman is going to make a change.

On most of the trout streams, the bulk of water insects transform into adult flies in the spring months, from April through June, with heavy winds and rain aiding in bringing the insects to the top of the water.

Then trout fishing really begins, and the angler no longer depends on luck.

Fontaine Barred In Pennsylvania

PITTSBURGH, May 16.—(INS)—Deputy boxing commissioner Lou Shirling today barred welterweight Juste Fontaine from boxing in Pennsylvania because of his inept performance last night against Dave Marsh of Akron, O.

Marsh, 138, captured a unanimous decision from the bloody, battered Fontaine, 142, in the eight-round feature bout at the Aragon in Pittsburgh.

Fontaine's last fight occurred in Milwaukee where he lost a 10-round decision to Doll Rafferty Dec. 28, 1949.

Cards Get Lindell, Yanks Ship Marshall, Pilette, Mize Away

NEW YORK, May 16.—(INS)—The New York Yankees announced Monday the sale of outfielder Johnny Lindell on waivers to the St. Louis Cardinals and the outright sale of pitcher Clarence Marshall to the St. Louis Browns for an unannounced sum.

The two players will join their new clubs today.

Earlier, the Yankees announced they have optioned veteran first baseman Johnny Mize, second baseman Bill Martin and pitcher Duane Pilette to their Kansas City farm team of the American Association, subject to 24-hour recall.

Appling's Hand Is Not Fractured

CHICAGO, May 16.—(INS)—The Chicago White Sox got good news today—Luke Appling's badly-swollen left hand is not fractured.

X-rays at Mercy hospital indicated Luke was suffering only bruises. No estimate was made as to when he could return to action.

Luke, who recently switched from shortstop to first base, injured the hand in a collision Saturday with Umpire Bill McKinley in a game with the Cleveland Indians.

Penn State again will be the site of state-wide schoolboy championships in track and field, tennis and golf. Dates set by the P.I.A.A. are May 26-27.

Dick Massuch, Michigan State student assistant baseball coach will continue his professional baseball career in the Brooklyn Dodgers chain after graduation from college.

Ted Robertson, of Hershey, who at season's start didn't think he was good enough to make the Penn State golf team, now is the No. 2 man on Bob Rutherford's varsity.

Russia To Reduce German Reparations

LONDON, May 16.—(INS)—The Soviet government announced today through radio Moscow that it had decided to slash by one-half the reparations due from Germany.

The announcement said the Kremlin's decision was sent by letter to Otto Grotewohl, chancellor of the Soviet-dominated east German republic. This move was viewed by foreign observers as an attempt to curry favor with the Germans in the propaganda war.

The broadcast of the Soviet decision said that reparations payments will be cut to $3,171,000,000.

Auto Tire Vandals Hunted By Police

Two cases of auto vandalism was reported to city police last night and Chief of police Robert D. Hanna has instructed all officers to hunt down the vandals.

The vandalism was the slashing of auto tires.

R. M. Long, restaurant proprietor, parked his car behind the Gala restaurant and when he went to get it, found cuts in two tires.

Robert Bush, former policeman, now with a motor freight safety concern, parked in the rear of the Castleton, for five minutes, and while he was away from his car a tire was slashed.
